HEALING THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN WOMEN & MEN

Anngwyn and Karl-Heinz share a passion for healing the collective trauma for women and men, collaborating for many years, as an American woman and a German man, they have deep insight into the effects of history and conflict on personal lives

Anngwyn St Just has spent a lifetime working on personal, societal, and collective trauma. She has facilitated constellations across the globe for 20 years and has written nine books on trauma and constellation work. She has worked closely over many years with Peter Levine studying trauma and with Bert Hellinger in his early work in the US.

Dr Karl-Heinz Rauscher is a practicing medical doctor and writer from Germany, specializing in integrative medicine, psychotherapy, and addiction work. Facilitating and training in Systemic Constellations for over 20 years he has a special interest in the ways harmony or conflict between women and men echo across larger social patterns.

Anngwyn St. Just, PhD and Dr Karl-Heinz Rauscher, MD combine their expertise in trauma and Systemic Constellation work to look at patterns that hurt and disconnect us from each other. Bringing resolution and real peace into relationships between men and women and the masculine and feminine within us all is the focus for this one-day Master Class.

This work explores the systemic, often hidden causes of pain and misunderstanding between men and women that although we may not realize it often have their roots in family, social, and historical trauma. While we are opposite genders, men and women are two aspects of our collective soul, understanding and honouring this helps us to reconcile our real and imagined differences.

A rare opportunity to experience two highly experienced International Constellation Trainers who are both part of the International Teaching Faculty for the Australasian Constellation Intensive, we hope you can join us for this insightful and healing event.
